

Human Dimensions of Climate Change
Workshop at Oxford Friends Meeting House

43 St Giles, Oxford, OX1 3LW

14th March 2015, 10 to 4

Draft Programme

09.30 Arrivals, refreshments available

10.00 Opening worship, welcome, introductions, hopes for the day

10.30 Mapping action on human dimensions of climate change

Looking at organisations and networks addressing social, psychological and spiritual aspects of climate change – e.g. Carbon Conversations, RSA, Transition Network, COIN, Green Christian and Work that Reconnects. How do they link up, what's missing?

11.30 Break

12.00 Quaker approaches to the human dimensions of climate change

Asking what approaches emerge from Quaker faith and practice, including engaging with 'the darkness' and with difference, and discernment of ways forward together.

13.00 Lunch – bread and soup will be provided but bring your own sandwiches.

14.00 Sharing our practices

An opportunity to work with Quaker and other practices – e.g. Experiment with Light, Godly Play, Truth Mandala, Visioning. We'll decide together how to use this time – we could divide into small groups, and we could have a one-hour session or two half-hour sessions. If you'd like to offer a practice, please come prepared.

15.00 Break

15.30 Where next for the Quaker Human Dimensions Network?
